1. Basis of presenting consolidated financial statements

Kiyo Holdings, Inc. (the "Company") and its consolidated subsidiaries maintain their official accounting records in Japanese yen, in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Japanese Corporate Law and the Japanese Banking Law, in general conformity with the Japanese regulatory authorities and in conformity with accounting principles and practices generally accepted in Japan, which are different in certain respects from the application and disclosure requirements of International Financial Reporting Standards. The accompanying consolidated financial statements have been restructured and translated into English, with some expanded descriptions, from the consolidated financial statements of the Company prepared in accordance with Japanese GAAP and filed with the appropriate Local Finance Bureau of the Ministry of Finance as required by the Financial Instruments and Exchange Law. Some supplementary information included in the statutory Japanese language consolidated financial statements, but not required for fair presentation, is not presented in the accompanying consolidated financial statements, certain reclassifications and rearrangements have been made in order to present them in a form which is more familiar to readers outside Japan.

The translations of the Japanese yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts are included solely for the convenience of the readers outside Japan, using the prevailing exchange rate at March 31, 2010, which was ¥93.04 to US $1.00. The translations should not be construed as representations that the Japanese yen amounts have been, could have been or could in the future be converted into U.S. dollars at this or any other rate of exchange. Amounts of less than one million yen have been rounded down. As a result, the totals shown in the financial statements do not necessarily agree with the sum of the individual amounts.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Consolidation — The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and 7 subsidiaries (the "Group"). At the previous year-end, the Company had 9 subsidiaries. All significant intercompany transactions and unrealized profits have been eliminated. Goodwill is expensed over ten years on a straight-line basis, and negative goodwill is fully charged to income when incurred. In the elimination of investments in subsidiaries, the assets and liabilities of the subsidiaries, including the portion attributable to minority shareholders, are evaluated using the fair value at the time when the Company acquired control of the respective subsidiary.

(b) Trading account securities — Trading account securities are stated at fair market value. Gains and losses realized on the sale of such securities and unrealized gains and losses from market value fluctuations are recognized as gains or losses in the period of the change. Realized gains and losses on the sale of such securities are computed using moving average cost.

(c) Securities — The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries classify securities as (a) debt securities intended to be held to maturity ("held-to-maturity debt securities"), (b) equity securities issued by subsidiaries and affiliated companies, and (c) all other securities that are not classified in any of the above categories ("available-for-sale securities"). Held-to-maturity debt securities are stated at amortized cost. Held-to-maturity debt securities with no available fair market value are stated at amortized cost, net of the amount considered not collectible. Available-for-sale securities are reported, net of applicable income taxes, as a separate component of shareholders' equity. Realized gains and losses on the sale of such securities are computed using moving average cost.

Available-for-sale securities for which the fair market value is extremely difficult to determine are stated at moving average cost or amortized cost. The value of securities acquired through repurchase agreements or securities lending transactions with cash collateral with respect to which the banking subsidiary has the right to freely dispose of by sale or by re-offering them as collateral amounted to  $\frac{20,88}{20,988}$  million ( $\frac{225,581}{20,988}$  thousand) and  $\frac{241,410}{2009}$  million as of March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. At that time, these securities remained undisposed of and in the possession of the subsidiaries.

In view of recent market conditions, current market prices of Japanese Government Bonds (JGBs) with variable interest rates cannot be regarded as the fair value in many cases. Consequently, the Company has adopted a system of estimation based on a "theoretical price."

The "theoretical price" used to estimate the value of variable-interest JGBs estimates the present value of future cash flows, which are obtained using the yield on JGBs as well as the price of zero-floor options as predicted by the convexity method and/or the Black-Scholes option model and the discount rate based on the yield. The principal variables used in determining the JGB price are the JGB spot rate and the implied volatility of swaptions. The Company obtains this price from reliable bid-price providers and applies it after careful consideration of its applicability to the Company's situation.

(d) Derivatives and hedge accounting — Derivatives are stated at fair value, except when the derivatives are used for hedging purposes. If derivatives are used for hedging purposes and meet certain hedging criteria, recognition of gains and losses resulting from changes in fair value are deferred until the related losses or gains on the hedged items are recognized. The banking subsidiary applies the basic provisions of JICPA Industry Audit Committee Report No. 25 to currency swap and foreign exchange swap transactions, which are made to convert funds raised in Japanese yen to funds invested in foreign currencies and other purposes. The banking subsidiary assesses the effectiveness of currency swap and foreign exchange swap transactions executed to offset the risk of changes in currency exchange rates by verifying that there are foreign currency positions of the hedging instruments that correspond to the foreign currency monetary claims and debts to be hedged.

(e) Depreciation and amortization —

Tangible fixed assets (excluding lease assets):

Depreciation of tangible fixed assets held by the Company and its banking subsidiary is generally computed by the declining balance method. However, buildings (excluding attached facilities) acquired on or after April 1, 1998 are depreciated using the straight-line method. The useful lives of tangible fixed assets range from 6 to 50 years for buildings and 5 to 20 years for equipment.

Tangible fixed assets, excluding lease assets, held by other consolidated subsidiaries are mainly depreciated using the declining balance method based on the estimated useful life of the asset.

Intangible fixed assets (excluding lease assets):

Intangible fixed assets are amortized on a straight-line basis. Software developed or obtained for internal use is amortized by the straight-line method over an estimated useful life of 5 years.

Lease assets:

Depreciation and amortization of lease assets, including both "Tangible fixed assets" and "Intangible fixed assets," under leasing transactions that are not deemed to transfer ownership of the leased property to the lessee are computed by the straight-line method over the lease period, with a residual value of zero.

(f) Reserve for possible loan losses — Based on its own self-assessment rules, the banking subsidiary makes provisions for possible loan losses. For loans to insolvent customers who are undergoing bankruptcy or other collection proceedings or who are in a similar financial condition, the reserve for possible loan losses is provided in the full amount of such loans, excluding the portion that is estimated to be recoverable due to the fair value of any underlying collateral or guarantees. For the unsecured and unguaranteed portions of loans to customers not presently in the above circumstances but for whom there is a high probability of so becoming, the reserve for possible loan losses is provided for the estimated unrecoverable amounts determined after an evaluation of each customer's overall financial condition. For other loans, the reserve for possible loan losses is provided based on the banking subsidiary's actual rate of loan losses in the past.

The reserves for possible loan losses of non-banking subsidiaries are provided for general claims in the amount deemed necessary based on the rate of losses in the past and for certain doubtful claims in the amount deemed uncollectible based on assessments of the respective claims.

For claims against "bankrupt borrowers" and "effectively bankrupt borrowers," the amount exceeding the estimated value of collateral and guarantees is deemed uncollectible and deducted directly from those claims. At March 31, 2010 and 2009, the deducted amounts were $94,724 million ($1,018,104 thousand) and $96,327 million, respectively.

(g) Accrued employees' severance and retirement benefits — The Kiyo Bank, Ltd. (Kiyo Bank), a subsidiary of the Company, has established a defined benefit plan under which the bank operates a private pension fund and a qualified retirement plan and makes lump-sum payments at the time of the employee's retirement. Kiyo Bank has also established a trust fund for pension payments. Another subsidiary has established a defined contribution plan and jointly operates pension funds with other companies outside the Kiyo Group. Other subsidiaries have employed lump-sum payment systems under which they make payments to their employees at the time of retirement.

Provision is made for severance and retirement benefits in an amount deemed necessary based on the estimated amounts of retirement benefit obligations and the value of pension plan assets at the balance sheet date. Differences generated from changes in actuarial assumptions are charged to income or expenses in an amount allocated on a straight-line basis over 9 years, which is shorter than the average remaining service period of the employees, beginning with the term following that when the differences are generated. Because the average remaining service period decreased, the Company changed the number of years over which the differences are allocated from 10 years to 9 years effective from the year ended March 31, 2010. As a result of this change, income before income taxes and minority interests was ¥218 million ($2,353 thousand) less than the amount that would have been calculated without the change.

In the calculation of the projected benefit obligation and plan assets, the discount rate and expected rate of return on plan assets was 2.0%, and the projected benefit is being allocated to each period by the straight-line method.

Effective from the year ended March 31, 2010, the Company has applied ASBJ Statement No. 19, "Partial Amendments to Accounting Standard for Retirement Benefits (Part 3)," issued on July 31, 2008. The new standard requires the companies to use the discount rate determined by reference to market yields at the end of the fiscal year on high quality bonds such as long-term Japanese government bonds, government agency bonds and high quality corporate bonds. Since the Company has been using the same discount rate as required by the standard, the application has had no effect on the accompanying consolidated financial statements.

(h) Accrued directors' retirement benefits — On June 29, 2004 the banking subsidiary abolished the system for the payment of retirement allowances to retiring directors and auditors. Instead, a provision is made for accrued retirement benefits of directors and auditors in an amount deemed necessary based on a formula stipulated in the internal regulations at the time of the previous system was abolished.

(i) Reserve for reimbursement of deposits — A provision is made for the future losses on claims on dormant accounts based on the historical refund record.

(j) Provision for contingent loss — A provision is made for payment on loan-loss burden-sharing to credit guarantee associations in an amount estimated to be paid in the future.

(k) Foreign currency translation — Receivables and payables in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese yen at the year-end rates. Hedge accounting is outlined in the above Note 2 (d).

(I) Income taxes — Income taxes comprise corporation, inhabitants and enterprise taxes. Deferred tax assets are recorded by the asset and liability approach based on loss carryforwards and the temporary differences between the financial statement bases and tax bases of assets and liabilities.

(m) Finance leases — Revenues and cost of revenues are recognized when lease payments are made.

As lessee, finance lease transactions in which ownership of the lease assets is not transferred to the lessee and for which leasing contracts commenced prior to April 1, 2008, are treated in the same manner as applied to ordinary operating lease transactions. As lessor and in line with stipulations in the ASBJ Practical Guidance on accounting procedures for leasing transactions, the theoretical value of assets (after deduction of accumulated depreciation expenses) as of the previous term-end is used to determine balance-sheet amounts of lease investment assets as of April 1, 2008.

(n) Financial Instruments and related disclosures

The Company applied ASBJ Statement No. 10, "Accounting Standard for Financial Instruments," and ASBJ Guidance No. 19, "Guidance on Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments," issued by the ASBJ on March 10, 2008.

Compared with amounts that would have been reported under the previous accounting standards, "Securities," "Deferred tax liabilities," "Net unrealized losses on available-for-sale securities" and "Income before income taxes and minority interests" were ¥67 million ($729 thousand), ¥31 million ($341 thousand), ¥47 million ($515 thousand) and ¥63 million ($678 thousand) more respectively, than the amounts that would have been reported without the new standard.

(o) Employee stock ownership plan

At the Board of Directors' meeting held on February 1, 2010, the Company resolved to introduce a trust-type employee stock ownership plan (the "Plan") to improve employees' performance by increasing their awareness of participating in management by granting stock incentives to employees to promote the Company's middle- and long-term enterprise value. The Plan is a stock incentive plan covering all the employees who participate in "Kiyo Financial Group Employee Stock Ownership Group" (the "Stock Ownership Group"). Under the Plan, the Company establishes "Trust Exclusive for Kiyo Financial Group Employee Stock Ownership Group" (the "Stock Ownership Group"), which will acquire the Company's shares in advance in an amount equivalent to the volume which the Stock Ownership Group will acquire over a period of five years. And then, at a certain point in time, the Company's shares owned by the Stock Ownership Trust will be transferred to the Stock Ownership Group. If the fund equivalent to the gain on the sales of these shares were accumulated upon the completion of the transfer, such a fund as remaining assets will be distributed to the eligible employees as beneficiaries. Since the Company guarantees the loans of the Stock Ownership Trust used to purchase the Company's shares, the Company will pay the remaining liabilities based on the guarantee agreement if any losses on the sales of shares.

Considering the economic substance of the plan from a conservative viewpoint, the Stock Ownership Trust is accounted for as if it were a part of the Company since the Company guarantees its liabilities in acquiring or disposing of the shares. Accordingly, the Company's shares owned by the trust, as well as the assets, liabilities, expenses and income of the trust, are reflected in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets, consolidated statements of income, consolidated statements of changes in nets assets and consolidated statements of cash flows. The number of the Company's shares owned by the Stock Ownership Trust as of March 31, 2010 is 10,034,000 shares.

(p) Consolidated statements of cash flows — Cash and deposits with the Bank of Japan that are included in the consolidated balance sheets under the caption cash and due from banks are considered to be cash and cash equivalents in the statements of cash flows.

(q) Net income per share — Net income per share is computed by deducting dividends for preferred stock from net income and dividing the balance by the weighted average number of shares of common stock, excluding treasury shares, outstanding during the reporting period.

3. Trading account securities and other securities

The balance sheet amounts of trading account securities as of March 31, 2010 and 2009 were $5,328 million ($57,267 thousand) and $5,011 million, respectively. Net valuation gains and losses from trading account securities for the years ended March 31, 2010 and 2009 amounted to $41 million ($441 thousand) and $27 million, respectively. Fair values and unrealized gains and losses on held-to-maturity debt securities and available-for-sale securities with available fair values as of March 31, 2010 and 2009 were as follows:

Available-for-sale securities with fair value that has declined significantly from the acquisition cost and for which there is deemed to be no likelihood of the fair value recovering to the acquisition cost level are recorded on the balance sheet at the said fair value. In addition, the difference between acquisition cost and fair value is posted as a loss in the consolidated accounts for the fiscal year in question (this process is known as "impairment accounting"). The impairment loss for the year ended March 31, 2010 was  $\pm 6,695$  million (\$71,965 thousand), of which, equity shares accounted for  $\pm 6,683$  million (\$71,838 thousand) and bonds for  $\pm 11$  million (\$127 thousand). The impairment loss for the year ended March 31, 2009 was  $\pm 20,558$  million, of which, equity shares accounted for  $\pm 9,049$  million, foreign bonds for  $\pm 7,992$  million, and other financial instruments for  $\pm 3,515$  million.

The fair value of a security is classified as having fallen "significantly" from the acquisition cost when it falls below 70% of the said acquisition cost.

Of securities that have fallen below their acquisition cost, impairment accounting shall be implemented with respect to all those that have fallen below 50% of the acquisition cost. In the case of securities whose fair value has fallen below 70% but not below 50%, impairment accounting shall be implemented with respect to those whose market prices are deemed unlikely to recover to the acquisition cost level based on our judgment and taking into account internal and external factors such as the business performance of the issuing company and market price movements with respect to all securities and the credit ratings assigned to the issuing company by external rating agencies in the case of bonds.

(c) Bonds sold at maturity during the year ended March 31, 2009 were as follows:

	Millions of yen
		2009
	Acquisition cost	Proceeds from sale	Gain (loss) on sale
Bonds	¥ -	¥ -	¥-
Other	1,063	1,043	(20)
Total	¥1.063	¥1.043	(20)

The above refers to bonds sold by issuing Companies' whose creditworthiness has deteriorated markedly. There were no bonds sold during the year ended March 31, 2010.

(d) Changes in holding purposes of available-for-sale securities

The following available-for-sale securities were reclassified into held-to-maturity securities due to a change in the purpose for which they were held for the years ended March 31, 2010 and 2009:

	Millions of yen
		2010			2009
	Fair value	Carrying amount	Unrealized gains	Fair Value	Carrying amount	Unrealized losses
Japanese government bonds	¥135,077	¥134,381	¥3,917	¥132,133	¥134,764	¥7,226
	Thousa	unds of U.S. c	lollars
		2010
	Fair value	Carrying amount	Unrealized gains
Japanese government bonds	$1,451,823	$1,444,344	$42,110

These changes were made to correspond to the very exceptional market conditions under which the liquidity of government bonds with variable interest rates significantly declined, and the sale of the said bonds at fair value became extremely difficult over a meaningful period.

At the time of acquisition, the said floating-interest government bonds were classified under available-for-sale securities as there remained a possibility that the bonds could be sold, depending on market conditions. However, the Company decided to change the purpose for which these bonds were held in view of the fact that: a) the bonds bore no credit risk, b) the bonds were significantly resistant to interest rate fluctuations, and c) the bonds were deemed to be highly suitable as assets to be held to maturity.

(e) Total sales of available-for-sale securities in the years ended March 31, 2010 and 2009 amounted to ¥460,300 million ($4,947,338 thousand) and ¥476,654 million, respectively. The related gains and losses for the year ended March 31, 2010 amounted to ¥6,987 million ($75,099 thousand) and ¥3,693 million ($39,695 thousand), respectively. For the year ended March 31, 2009, the related gains and losses were ¥3,640 million and ¥4,150 million, respectively.

(f) Net unrealized gains and losses on available-for-sale securities as of March 31, 2010 and 2009 were as follows.

Other delinquent loans are loans other than those included in loans to borrowers legally bankrupt for which the recognition of accrued interest has been suspended after a assessment of the loan's quality. Loans past due over 3 months are loans for which principal and/or interest payments are past due for three months or more.

Restructured loans are loans for which the banking subsidiary has granted borrowers certain concessions such as reduced or exempted interest, suspended payments of interest, delayed repayment of principal, and waiver of claims to allow borrowers to restructure or to provide them support. This category of loans excludes loans to borrowers legally bankrupt, other delinquent loans and loans past due over 3 months.

The banking subsidiary applies "Accounting and Auditing Treatment of Accounting Standards for Financial Instruments in the Banking Industry" (JICPA Industry Audit Committee Report No. 24) and accounts for bills discounted as financial transactions. The face value of bank acceptances, bills of exchange and bills of lading which were permitted to be sold or pledged without restrictions and were acquired at a discount amounted to ¥28,922 million ($310,856 thousand) and ¥35,233 million at March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively.

As of March 31, 2010, Kiyo Bank had issued unsecured subordinated bonds as follows:

Issued	Due	Rate	Millions of yen	Thousands of U.S. dollars
March 2007	March 2017	3.03%	¥ 5,000	$ 53,741
October 2009	October 2017	3.00%	3,000	32,244
Total	-	-	¥8,000	$85,985

11. Other income

For the years ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, other income included the collection of written-off claims in the amount of  $\frac{1}{2}$ ,285 million ( $\frac{24,564}{1000}$  thousand) and  $\frac{1}{8}$ ,842 million, respectively.

12. Other expenses

For the years ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, other expenses included losses on the devaluation of stocks and other securities in the amount of  $\pm 6,683$  million (\$71,838 thousand) and  $\pm 9,205$  million, respectively, losses on loans written off amounting to  $\pm 5,286$  million (\$56,823 thousand) and  $\pm 9,353$  million, respectively, and losses on transfer/sale of loan obligations amounting to  $\pm 536$  million (\$5,763 thousand) and  $\pm 1,185$  million, respectively.

The Bank reduced the book value to the amounts deemed recoverable and posted the reduced amount of ¥7 million ($82 thousand) and ¥415 million for the years ended March 31, 2010 and 2009, respectively. Details were as follows:

			Impairment loss
			Millions	of yen	Thousands of U.S. dollars
Location	Major use	Asset category	2010	2009	2010
Kiyo Bank:
Wakayama Prefecture	Branches	Land	¥4	¥12	$50
Osaka Prefecture	Branches	Mainly land	-	392	-
Wakayama Prefecture	Idle assets	Land and buildings	3	11	32
Total	-	-	¥7	¥415	$82

With respect to the calculation of impairment losses, the minimum operational unit recognized for management accounting purposes by the banking subsidiary is the single bank branch. However, where a number of branches operate as a group at the managerial level, the accounting unit is the group rather than the individual branch. Each unit of idle assets (one "unit" is defined as one plot of land or one building) is treated as a separate and individual unit for accounting purposes. Because the head office, administration center and Company provided housing and dormitories for the staff of the banking subsidiary do not independently generate any cash flows, they are treated as assets held in common by the banking subsidiary for accounting purposes. With respect to other consolidated subsidiaries, in principle, each company is treated as a separate and individual unit for impairment accounting purposes.

In calculating impairment losses for the reporting period, the amount deemed recoverable, i.e. the net proceeds from sale, was estimated by deducting the cost of disposal from the real estate appraisal value, based on official appraisal standards.

13. Income taxes

The Company is subject to a number of taxes based on income, which, in the aggregate, indicate a statutory rate in Japan of approximately 40.4% for the years ended March 31, 2010 and 2009. Preferred stock

Preferred stock is noncumulative and nonparticipating for dividend payments, and holders of preferred stock are not entitled to vote at a general meeting of shareholders except when the proposal to pay the prescribed dividends to shareholders is not submitted to or is rejected at the general meeting of shareholders.

Annual dividends per share of preferred stock (Type 1, Type 2 and Fourth Series Type 1) were paid to shareholders in the amount of ¥14.00, ¥10.00 and ¥15.00, respectively. With regard to preferred stock of Fourth Series Type 1, annual dividends per share shall be determined using a formula provided by the Company's Articles of Incorporation. Preferred stock Type 1 was converted into common stock due to a request from the holders and then retired during the year ended March 31, 2010.

If there is a liquidation distribution, holders of preferred stock Type 2 and Fourth Series Type 1 will receive ¥500 and ¥700 per share, respectively, and will not have the right to participate in any further liquidation distribution. The Company may, at any time, purchase and retire Type 2 preferred stock out of earnings available for distribution to the shareholders. Holders of preferred stock may request the Company to convert their preferred stock into common stock. The conversion period and conversion price* of each type of preferred stock are as follows:

Туре	Conversion period	Conversion price
Type 2	October 1, 2006 to September 30, 2011*	Market price at October 1, 2006
Fourth series Type 1	October 1, 2011 to September 30, 2016	Market price at October 1, 2011

In the event that the base date to finalize eligible shareholders is determined, the conversion shall be suspended for the period between the day following the base date and the date on which the general meeting of shareholders in question ends.
 In the event that the market price of a single share of the Company's stock is less than ¥519.50, ¥519.50 shall be deemed the initial conversion price.

Conversion prices are reset and adjusted pursuant to the stated rules governing the conversion of preferred stock. Any preferred stock (Type 2 and Fourth Series Type 1) for which conversion has not been requested during the conversion period shall be mandatorily converted as of the date immediately following the last day of the conversion period (the "mandatory conversion date") into the common stock. The number of shares of common stock resulting from the conversion shall be determined by dividing the amount set forth below by the average closing price per share of common stock in regular transactions at the Tokyo Stock Exchange for the 30 consecutive trading days (excluding any day on which the closing price is not available) commencing on the 45th trading day preceding the mandatory conversion date. If the average price for Type 2 and Fourth Series Type 1 preferred stock is less than ¥519.50 and 50% of the initial acquisition price (market price at October 1, 2011), the preferred stock shall be converted into shares of common stock by dividing the corresponding amount set forth below by the relevant amount described above.

Preferred stock (Type 2): ¥500 per share

Preferred stock (Fourth Series Type 1): ¥700 per share

(b) Retained earnings

Japanese banks are subject to the Company Law of Japan (the "Law") and the Banking Law. The Law requires that all shares of common stock be recorded with no par value and that at least 50% of the issue price of new shares be recorded as common stock and the remaining net proceeds as additional paid-in capital, which is included in capital surplus. The Law permits Japanese companies, upon approval of their Boards of Directors, to issue shares to existing shareholders without consideration. Such issuance of shares generally does not give rise to changes within the shareholders' accounts.

The Law requires that an amount equal to 10% of dividends must be appropriated as a legal reserve (a component of retained earnings) or as additional paid-in capital (a component of capital surplus) depending on the equity account charged upon the payment of such dividends until the total of aggregate amount of legal reserve and additional paid-in capital equals 25% of the capital stock. Under the Law, the total amount of additional paid-in capital and legal reserve may be reserved without limitation. The Law also provides that capital stock, legal reserve, additional paid-in capital, other capital surplus and retained earnings can be transferred among the accounts under certain conditions upon resolution of the shareholders.

The Law allows Japanese companies to repurchase treasury stock and dispose of such treasury stock by resolution of the Board of Directors. The repurchased amount of treasury stock cannot exceed the amount available for future dividends plus the amount of stated capital, additional paid-in capital or legal reserve to be reduced in cases in which a reduction was resolved at the shareholders' meeting.

In addition to requiring an appropriation for a legal reserve in connection with cash payments, the Law imposes certain limitations on the amount of retained earnings available for dividends.

Dividends are approved by the shareholders at a meeting held subsequent to the fiscal year to which the dividends are applicable. Semiannual interim dividends may also be paid upon resolution of the Board of Directors, subject to certain limitations imposed by the Law.

18. Guarantee obligations for bonds

19. Financial instruments and related disclosures

As discussed in Note 2(n), the Company applied ASBJ Statement No. 10, "Accounting Standard for Financial Instruments," and ASBJ Guidance No. 19, "Guidance on Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments," issued by the ASBJ on March 10, 2008.

1. Disclosure about Financial Instruments

(1) Policy on financial instruments

The Group provides comprehensive financial services such as deposit-taking and lending services, electronic computing related services, leasing operations, credit card business and others. Since the Group is exposed to the market risk of fluctuations in interest rates arising from deposit-taking, lending services and securities investment operations, the Group conducts comprehensive asset and liability management (ALM) and, as part, employs derivative transactions.

(2) Nature and risk of financial instruments

Financial assets held by the Group mainly consist of loans to domestic customers, which are exposed to credit risk arising from customers' nonperformance of contractual obligations and also risk of interest rates fluctuations. Securities held by the Group mainly consist of debt securities, equity securities and investment trusts, which are held for the purpose of holding to maturity, net investment, strategic investment and trading purposes. These securities are exposed to the credit risk of the issuers, interest rate fluctuation risk and price fluctuation risk.

Financial liabilities mainly consist of deposits, which are exposed to liquidity risk and interest rate fluctuation risk as well as financial assets.

Major risks inherent in derivative transactions are market risk of fluctuations in interest rates, foreign exchange, stock prices and other market instruments and credit risk arising from customers' nonperformance of contractual obligations. The Group employs derivative transactions mainly to hedge risk, and the market risk of the hedged items is almost offset by the derivatives. Hedging instruments to which hedge accounting is applied are currency swaps and the corresponding hedged securities denominated in foreign currencies.

(3) Risk management system for financial instruments

Credit risk management

The Group has established a credit risk management system that includes the "Credit Risk Control Rule" and other various rules and defines the basic credit risk control policy and management system. Specifically, the Review Department conducts reviews according to the risk characteristics of the credit items by identifying the financial position, use of funds, repayment resources and other factors related to the credit customers. The Credit Control Department sets up and controls limits to avoid the concentration of credit risk and identifies the quantitative level of credit risk. The Department is also responsible for the maintenance of the credit rating system and reports the measured volume of credit risk to the Board of Directors and risk management committee so that credit risk management may be discussed within the framework of integrated risk control.

Market risk management

The Group has established a market risk management system that includes the "Market Risk Control Rule" and other various rules and defines the basic market risk control policy and management system.

(i) Interest rate risk management

With respect to interest rate management, the Group regularly measures the volume of interest rate risk arising from assets and liabilities such as securities, loans and deposits, conducts interest rate gap analysis and interest rate sensitivity analysis and reports the outcome to the ALM Strategy Committee and the Risk Control Committee. The Group has also established specific limits on the level of interest rate risk.

(ii) Price fluctuation risk management

With respect to price fluctuation risk, the Group controls the level of risk on a daily basis by measuring the risk volume and setting up limits on the risk level. Securities held for net investment purposes are controlled additionally by setting up limits on transactions and losses in addition to those set up by the risk volume control. With respect to the shares held for strategic investment purposes, the Group tries to reduce the risk level by limiting the balance. (iii) Foreign exchange risk management

The Group tries to reduce the risk by identifying the fluctuation risk of foreign exchange rates associated with the foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities, controlling the risk within the predetermined limit and employing currency swaps, etc.

(iv) Derivative transactions

Derivatives transactions are employed principally for hedging purpose, but dealing in derivatives conducted to a limited extent. An internal control system has been established by segregating the functions of executing derivative transactions, evaluating hedge effectiveness and operations control.

Liquidity risk management

The Group has established a liquidity risk management system that includes the "Liquidity Risk Control Rule" and other various rules and defines the basic liquidity risk control policy and management system. The Group tries to control liquidity risk by maintaining stable cash management, securing the highly liquid reserves and strengthening preliminary controls.

(4) Supplementary explanation about fair value of financial instruments

The fair value of financial instruments include, in addition to the value determined based on the market price, a valuation calculated on a reasonable basis if no market price is available. Since certain assumptions are used in calculating the value, the outcome of such calculation may vary if different assumptions are used.

2. Fair value of financial instruments

The Carrying amount, the fair value and the related difference as of March 31, 2010 were set forth in the table below. Note that unlisted equity securities for which the fair value was extremely difficult to determine were not included in the following table (See Note 2). Also, insignificant items are omitted.

(Note 1) Calculation method for the fair value of financial instruments Assets:

Cash and due from banks

For deposits without maturity, the carrying amount is presented as the fair value since the fair value approximates the carrying amount.

Call loans and bills bought

For call loans and bills bought, the carrying amount is presented as the fair value since the fair value approximates the carrying amount because the remaining maturity is short (less than one year). Securities

The fair value of equity securities is determined using the quoted price on exchanges, and the fair value of debt securities is determined using the price published by the industry group or offered by the financial institutions with which they are transacted. The fair value of investment trusts is determined using the published standard quotation or the price offered by the financial institutions with which they are transacted. The fair value of non-publicly traded private placement bonds is determined using the same calculation method as that of loans. With respect to the fair value of variable-interest JGBs, it has been judged that current market prices cannot be regarded as the fair value, and the value calculated on a reasonable basis is treated as the fair value.

The fair value of variable-interest JGBs is determined using the discounted present value of future cash flows generated from the variable interest JGBs, taking into consideration the value of zero-floor options as predicted by the convexity method and/or the Black-Scholes option model. The principal variables used in determining the JGB price are the JGB spot rate and the implied volatility of yen swaptions. The Company obtains this price from reliable bid-price providers and applies it after careful examination of its applicability to the Company's situation.

Notes concerning securities held by holding purposes are described at Note 3, "Trading account securities and securities."

Loans and bills discounted

For loans with variable interest rates, which reflect short-term interest rates, the carrying amount is presented as the fair value since the fair value approximates the carrying amount as long as the creditworthiness of the borrower has not changed significantly from the time of the loan origination. For the loans with fixed interest rates, the fair value is determined based on the aggregate value of principal and interest by categories of types of loans, internal ratings and maturities discounted using the interest rate assumed if the same loans were newly originated. For the loans with short contractual terms (less than one year), the carrying amount is presented as the fair value since the fair value approximates the carrying amount.

For receivables from bankrupt, effectively bankrupt and likely to become bankrupt borrowers, loan losses are estimated based on factors such as the present value of expected future cash flows or the expected amount to be collected from collateral and guarantees. Since the fair value of these items approximates the carrying amount, net of the currently expected loan losses, the carrying amount is presented as the fair value.

For loans which have non-defined repayment due dates because of restricting the loans within the amount of pledged assets, the carrying amount is presented as the fair value since the fair value approximates the carrying amount considering the expected repayment schedule and interest rate conditions.

Liabilities:

Deposits

For demand deposits, the amount payable on demand as of the balance sheet date (i.e., the carrying amount) is considered to be the fair value. The fair value of time deposits is determined using the discounted present value of future cash flows, grouped by certain maturity lengths. The discount rate used is the interest rate that would be applied to newly accepted deposits. For deposits whose maturity is short (less than one year), the carrying amount is presented as the fair value since the fair value approximates the carrying amount.

Borrowed money and bonds

For borrowed money and bonds, the fair value is calculated as the present value of expected future cash flows discounted using the interest rate that would be applied to newly borrowed money. For borrowed money with variable interest rates linked to the short-term market interest rates, the carrying amount is presented as the fair value since the fair value approximates the carrying amount because the creditworthiness of the Company has not changed significantly after it was executed.

Derivative transactions:

Derivative transactions are mainly currency related derivatives such as currency futures, currency options, currency swaps, etc. The fair value is determined using the value calculated by the discounted present value, option pricing models, etc.

(Note 2) Financial instruments whose fair value is extremely difficult to determine are set forth in the table below. These securities are not included in "Available-for-sale securities" under "Assets" in the table "Fair value of financial instruments."

Unlisted equity securities (*1) (*2)	¥1,860	$19,995

(*1) No market price is available for unlisted equity securities, and the fair value is not disclosed since it is extremely difficult to determine.

(*2) The Company recognized impairment loss in an amount of ¥38 million ($411 thousand) on unlisted equity securities for the year ended March 31, 2010.

(*3) The fair value of investment in partnerships whose assets consisted of securities such as unlisted equity securities whose fair value is extremely difficult to identify is not disclosed.

Derivatives to which hedge accounting is not applied:

With respect to derivatives to which hedge accounting is not applied, contract amount, fair value and recognized gain (loss) at the balance sheet date by transaction type and calculation method of fair value are set forth in the table below. Note that the contract amounts do not reflect the market risk exposure associated with derivatives themselves.

The effect on ordinary income of the changes in accounting standards was not material as operating expenses other than depreciation expenses increased correspondingly.

23. Commitment lines

Loan agreements and commitment line agreements are agreements which oblige the banking subsidiary to lend funds up to a certain limit agreed to in advance. The banking subsidiary makes the loans upon a borrower's request to draw down funds under such agreements, as long as there is no breach of the various terms and conditions stipulated in the agreements. The unused commitment balances relating to these agreements at March 31, 2010 and 2009 amounted to  $\frac{1}{306,332}$  million (\$3,292,483 thousand) and  $\frac{1}{326,741}$  million, respectively. Of this amount, the unused commitment balances relating to agreements with terms of one year or less or that were unconditionally cancelable at any time totaled  $\frac{1}{2299,184}$  million (\$3,215,660 thousand) and  $\frac{1}{318,062}$  million, respectively.

In many cases, the term of the agreement runs its course without the loan ever being drawn down. Therefore, unused loan commitment balances will not necessarily affect future cash flows. Conditions are included in certain loan agreements which allow the banking subsidiary to decline a request to draw down funds or to reduce the agreed limit amount when there is due cause to do so, such as when there is a change in financial condition or when it is necessary to protect the subsidiary's credit. The banking subsidiary makes various measures to protect its credit, including having the obligor pledge collateral in the form of real estate, securities etc. on signing the loan agreement or confirming the obligor's financial condition in accordance with the subsidiary's established internal procedures.
